The Code, therefore, applies to all these categories and should be understood by all concerned with competitive squash.

2. EVENTS ADMINISTRATION

Organisers of squash or Squash57 tournaments and competitions must ensure that clear and comprehensive regulations are prepared and available to all competitors in time to permit compliance with such regulations.

Administrative instructions, which require actions by players and / or officials, must be clearly stated and communicated to those concerned. Adequate arrangements must be made to permit the proper conduct of a tournament or competition.

3. OFFICIALS

Officials should be competent to handle the level of match to which they are appointed and must ensure that it is conducted in accordance with the Rules of Squash. These officials are responsible for ensuring the good conduct of players during a match.

4. PLAYERS

The Code of Conduct for players (and their managers and coaching staff where applicable) applies to individuals and teams. Players who enter tournaments or competitions thereby accept all regulations associated with the event and shall subsequently comply with them.

No players shall withdraw from an event after applying to enter without the consent of the event organiser. Such consent will normally only be given in the following circumstances:

- a) When the player has incurred accidental injury or ill-health after submitting an entry application.
- b) When the player application to enter is turned down following completion of the draw.

Players must be familiar with the Rules of Squash and must make every effort to comply with them.

Players must conduct themselves at all times in a way which brings credit to the image of squash and Squash57 in the eyes of spectators, the media and sponsors. They must behave with dignity on court and recognise the need for continuity of play. They must recognise the legitimate interests of the squash and Squash57 media and make themselves available to meet reasonable requests for interviews, photo calls and press briefings. They must also recognise their responsibilities to sponsors and event organisers and meet reasonable requests to attend formal and informal functions associated with the event. Some specific aspects of behaviour on court, or in public which are considered contrary to creditable conduct are include in the following list which is not intended to be comprehensive.

- a) Swearing.
- b) Making offensive gestures.
- c) Disputing decisions made by a referee.
- d) Deliberate contact between players or between players and playing equipment.

5. SPECTATORS

Spectators must remain silent during rallies and should not encourage extended and undignified delays between rallies by attempting to provoke discussion between players and officials, or between the players themselves.

6. DISCIPLINARY MATTERS

ES supports the Rules of Squash as published by the WSF. All tournaments and competitions organised in England under the auspices of or in conjunction with ES shall be played according to the rules of squash.

7. RULES OF SQUASH – CODE OF CONDUCT AND RESULTING PENALTIES

- 7.1. Are contained within the Rules of Squash and they outline the powers available to any referee for dealing with on court offences by players.
- 7.2. In addition, and provided that the referee is ES qualified, the referee must submit a report to ES within four days of awarding of Code of Conduct Penalties (stroke, game or match).
- 7.3. Accumulation of Code of Conduct penalties following the submission of these report forms will result in an automatic ban. Additional penalties may also be imposed, as denoted in 7.7.4 and 12.8.

- 7.4. A player will accumulate penalty points for each conduct offence: stroke – 1 point, game – 3 points. There is no sanction for a warning.
 - 7.5. There is no penalty provision for the award of a match because this would be dealt with by the ES Disciplinary Panel on an individual case basis.
 - 7.6. Only the most serious infringement in a single match shall be used for the purpose of point's accumulation. However, if the most serious infringement is repeated during the match, the point's accumulation shall reflect this by being totalled.
 - 7.7. A Player will invoke automatic bans for reaching the follow levels in one calendar year to be added to any other sanction which a player may attract:
 - 7.7.1. Game Awarded - One Week
 - 7.7.2. Accumulation of Five points - One Month
 - 7.7.3. Any additional two points (over five points), accumulated in the same year will result in a ban of one Further Month.
 - 7.7.4. If a player is subject to a ban in each of two successive years, a further sanction may be imposed by the ES Disciplinary Panel.
 - 7.7.5. Less than seven points in one year, but a combined ten-point total in two adjoining years, will attract a two-week ban.
 - 7.7.6. A ban would prohibit a player from competing in any ES Sanctioned Event or Metropolitan/County League during the period concerned.
 - 7.7.7. Any bans commence on the third Monday after the details of the conduct offence are received by the ES office. However, all periods of bans will fall within the months of October – April and may be carried over if necessary.
 - 7.8. The ES office will collate the information relating to conduct offences (against which there is no right of appeal) and inform the offending player when a ban is imposed.
8. DISCIPLINARY MATTERS AT EVENTS RUN BY ENGLAND SQUASH
- 8.1. If not already covered in paragraph 2, will be dealt with by the ES Disciplinary Panel.
 - 8.2. Any appeals will be dealt with by the ES Appeals Panel.
 - 8.3. ES reserves the right to discipline an English player, official, spectator or administrator whilst involved in a registered event outside England.
 - 8.4. The implementation of penalties relating to off-site offences as they affect a player in England will be dealt with on their merits by the ES Disciplinary Panel.
9. GUIDANCE DEALING WITH DISCIPLINARY OFFENCES, DISCIPLINARY HEARINGS AND APPEALS.
- 9.1. If not already covered in paragraph 2, alleged offender must be informed as soon as possible after the alleged breach of the Code of Conduct, that a report is to be submitted to the appropriate authority and that he/she may be the subject of a disciplinary hearing.
 - 9.2. A written report and written statements must be submitted to the appropriate authority by the appointed tournament director, competition director or other appropriate person within seven days of the alleged breach.
 - 9.3. The appropriate authority must notify the alleged offender in writing that a formal complaint against him/her has been received, and copies of the written report and statements referred to in paragraph 12.2 should be supplied to him/her. He/she must be invited to make a written report about the incident or incidents which gave rise to the allegation and indicate whether they accept the accuracy of the supplied documentation, and in serious cases should be informed of his/her right to have the matter dealt with at a disciplinary hearing.

- 9.4. A Disciplinary Authority of not less than three persons should be appointed to consider the written reports and, if necessary, to convene a disciplinary hearing. The authority should be given clear guidance as to its powers to impose disciplinary sanctions should it find the allegations to be substantiated by the evidence. The authority may be standing or convened to consider a particular incident and may not contain any person who has any connection with the parties involved.
- 9.5. If a hearing is called, it is essential that the alleged offender be given reasonable opportunity to attend (minimum 14 days) and/or be represented, and statements taken from witnesses must have been served on him/her fourteen days prior to the hearing.
- 9.6. Consideration of the alleged breaches of the Code of Conduct, whether involving a disciplinary hearing or not, should be dealt with as a clear priority. (It is impossible to set an arbitrary timescale to cover all levels of squash but, at the very least, the aim should be to complete the initial discipline process (excluding appeal) within one month of the alleged breach).
- 9.7. Except in the case outlined in 9.3, the alleged offender should have the right to appeal to a superior authority against the findings of the Disciplinary Authority (the Authority receiving the disciplinary matter referred to in paragraph 2), and/or any penalty imposed. He/she should also have the right to convene an appeal hearing (see paragraph 12.9).
- 9.8. A range of sanctions are available for application by a Discipline Authority which considers that the ES Code of Conduct have been breached. The range includes administrative action against event organisers, officials, players, and spectators, which could affect their future involvement in squash competitions and tournaments. There is also provision for specific financial penalties.
- 9.9. Any person wishing to appeal against a decision by a Disciplinary Authority must register an intention to appeal in writing, with the authority which issued the sanction within seven days of being notified of the Disciplinary Authority's decision. Persons appealing against a decision by the ES Disciplinary Panel must provide a deposit of £400.00 in the form of a cheque to ES. The deposit will be returned in full if the appeal is upheld. If the appeal is not upheld, the costs of the appeal will be taken from the deposit. Any penalty imposed by a Disciplinary Authority shall be suspended pending the outcome of the appeal. An appeal Authority should consider the reports and findings of the Disciplinary Authority who first handled the case and may call a further hearing. Those appointed to hear an appeal may confirm, set aside, reduce, or increase any penalties already imposed.
- 9.10. Any expenses of the Disciplinary Authority, the informant and witnesses involved in the first disciplinary hearing will be borne by the authority dealing with the alleged breach. The alleged offender must bear his/her own expenses unless the Discipline Authority otherwise decides. However, the Discipline Authority may, if it so decided, pass on costs reasonably incurred by the offender.
- 9.11. All expenses incurred in an Appeal Hearing will be borne by the person making the appeal, unless the findings of the Disciplinary Authority (or any part thereof if there is more than one allegation), is set aside. These costs will then become the responsibility of the Authority whose decision has been appealed against.

9.12. An alleged offender may be assisted by a legal adviser or supporter at a hearing if he/she so wishes.

10. CIVIL OR CRIMINAL ACTION

If civil or criminal proceedings are pending, all reports and statements should be collated as normal, but the disciplinary proceedings postponed until a decision by the civil or criminal authorities has been reached.

11. PENALTIES

To ensure that punishments are as consistent as possible, all results of the disciplinary hearings should be given to the ES office immediately the appeal time limit has expired. Relevant information will then be circulated periodically to Clubs and County Associations.
